Mr. Edson:—You run a newspaper, and are therefore supposed to know everything. You are obliged, in these practical days, to fill your newspaper with news. Now what do you do when there is no news—for you must have news, you know? Methinks I hear you say, "What do I do?—why, make it, to be sure. That's the way to do it." This reminds me of the story of the Frenchman, who assured a friend with whom he was talking, that he was a poet. His friend, much astonished, replied, "You a poet! Why, how is that?"—"Yes, a poet, and a very good one, too."—"How do you make poetry?"—"That's easy enough," replied he. "This is the way I do. I levy on all the best poets. For example, I take one of the best lines of Racine, then one of the best of Boileau, then one of the best of Lamartine, and so on, in that way. By-and-by, when it absolutely fails me to find a line to suit my purpose—I make one of my own, and join them all together. That's how I do it, and that's why I am a great poet. And I suppose you say that's the way to get up news. When you cannot find it, you make it."

On the 26th of September W. Cothren gathered his third crop of raspberries—a very nice variety—and the green ones for the October crop are well advanced, while the blossoms for the November crop are fully developed. Unless there is a very severe frost the October crop will ripen. This is what is called a monthly variety, a hardy, strong grower. The name of it does not occur to your correspondent. C. M. Minor, of Bridgeport, agent for Lindley's gardens, furnishes the shrubs to purchasers.

"One of 'em" says "they are going to write a letter to the editor of the Bee to warn him that if he does not stop publishing such articles as he does, from Woodbury, they are going to get right up and stop the circulation of his paper in this town." "Dye hear that now?" Aren't you afraid? You had better prepare to move your traps. The fact is, that the circulation of the Bee is too large and increasing too fast to suit some. So you must "take your chances."

—W. V. Root, A. M., our popular high school teacher, was treated to a genuine surprise party last week. More than a hundred persons made this "extra call on him and his most estimable bride. A happy social greeting and exchange of courtesies followed, and at a reasonable hour all departed for their homes, and, as an old gentleman once said—"thought better of themselves and of each other." Long live the young married twin.

—Our enterprising merchant, Geo. C. Bradley, of whose house mention has been made, has completed it, and moved into it, with all his household goods, and "household gods." The builder of this house, Mr. Hector Baldwin, has purchased of Mrs. Candee the lot next north, and commenced to erect a house for himself. The foundations are already laid. All this is right. All hail down town. Up town has led in this line long enough for the present.

—The Woodbury post-office becomes a money-order office to-day. As we have no bank of discount here this will be a great accommodation to persons who wish to send small sums safely by mail. The republican ticket for town officers was elected at our annual meeting—to wit, Benj. S. Russell, Edward N. Bishop (republicans), and Grandison Bardsley (democrat), for selectmen; Anson A. Root, Town Clerk. The Justice's ticket was by agreement divided between the parties.

—The people are trying out again for the lighting of those street lamps. They say it is a shame that the Village Improvement society should allow the streets to be given up to "deeds of darkness" when it would be so easy to stop it all, if they would only "let their lights shine." We are verily afraid if the society neglects its plain duty much longer the legislature will take away its charter at the January session. At least, that is the opinion of your obedient servant NAMELESS.

SUN RIVER, MONTANA, SEPT. 20th, 1877.
Editor of the Bee:

DEAR SIR:—A copy of THE BEE reached me a few days since. It carried me back to the old times, when I resided in Newtown, and painfully brought to mind my younger days and old companions and playmates; where are they? I see but few familiar names; scattered the world over they are, and not a few sleep quietly in the old cemetery. I call to mind the old red schoolhouse, at the foot of the Street, and my early attendance there. It was there I first learned to read and write, and there I heard the inspiring "Hohenlinden" and "Casabianca" recited. How furiously the declaimer drew his "battle blade," and how we admired noble Casabianca.

In my day Barnum's Hotel, the Judge Blackman residence, the old Episcopal and Congregational churches, and last, but not least, Henry Sanford's store, were the notable features of the town. It was a feat to slip behind the counter of the latter place and hook sugar from the bin. What time we spent in thinking how best to invest our coppers! Those were happy days, and can never return.

Perhaps some idea of this country may interest your readers. Sun River, Montana, is in the midst of as fine an agricultural region as can be found anywhere, and as a stock raising section cannot be equalled. The grasshoppers have been the only drawback to successful farming. For the past four years they have nearly destroyed the crop; but this year the "hoppers" did not make their appearance until the grain was ready for harvesting, and the yield was very large. All kinds of vegetables are raised successfully. Mining has been the great industry of the territory, Alder Gulch alone having turned out $60,000,000; but this great interest will give way to the greater interest of stock raising. The climate is such that stock turned out in the Fall are gathered together in the Spring in good condition, notwithstanding our very severe Winters. Some of our stock growers in this section own from 3,000 to 9,000 head of cattle each. Sheep raising is being profitably engaged in. It is a comparatively new enterprise, and I think it pays larger dividends than any other industry, and many men with small capital are engaging in it.

We have our share of apprehended danger from hostile Indians. The military headquarters for the district of Montana are four miles distant at Fort Shaw. Most of the command having been away recently, in the field, we naturally felt a little alarmed. It was the 9th Infantry who fought the battle of the Big Hole Prairie. We are entirely surrounded by Indians—the Blackfeet, Bloods, Peigans, Crows, Sioux, Assinibolles and Gros Ventres—so you can see we are pretty well hemmed in. Should the present movement of the Indians be a general one there would be nothing to prevent them from making a raid down the valley. We have an organization for defensive purposes. It would go but little way toward stopping the Indians should they join a general movement.

Among the officers of the 9th Infantry there are two from Connecticut—Capt. T. S. Kirtland of New Haven, and Lieut. Charles A. Booth. The latter gentleman resided formerly in Newtown, I believe; at all events his father was an old resident. Mr. Booth is a graduate of West Point, and appointed from Vermont. It is my intention to return East in a few months, and I hope to be able to visit old Newtown.

COUNTY, STATE AND GENERAL NEWS.

Susan E. Dickinson, a sister of Anna, has started on a lecture tour.

Gen. Geo. B. McClellan has been nominated for governor of New Jersey.

The United States annually ships over 100,000 boxes of clothes pins to England.

The total value of the silk manufactured last year in the United States was $25,592,103.

The Paris Exposition of 1878 is to cost $8,000,000. The original calculation was about $7,000,000.

Yassar College consumes 3,000 pounds of rare beef and 1,500 pounds of young lambs every week.

The manufacturing industries of New London are more prosperous than they have been in two years.

New England has in her savings banks, the enormous amount of $750,000,000.

Davis, the man who tried to help the Wethersfield prisoners to escape, has been caught. He was found in Somers.

The printed invitations to a negro ball in Tennessee bore the advice: "Leave your razors at home for fear you may fall on them."

President Lincoln's monument at Springfield, Ill., is nearly completed. The groups of statuary are being lifted to their places.

A new establishment to be known as the Progressive Art company, has been organized at New Britain, for the manufacture of bronzes and for wood-engraving.

Rev. M. L. Delevan, editor of the New Milford Ray, is about to resume a profession which he once discarded—that of the law.

The yellow fever is increasing in virulence, at Fernandina, Fla. Aid is urgently asked by the authorities, and nurses are much needed.

There are sixty-eight different sewing machine stitches, and a hundred and sixty-eight different ways of lying about them.

Two thousand American firms are said to have already made arrangements to be represented in the Paris Exhibition of 1878.

Two grand nieces of Daniel Webster in Government employ in Washington, are "pretty girls and graceful, with eyes like gawwies, and dancing feet."

At the dedication of the soldiers' monument on Boston Common, Sept. 17th, a large tier of seats fell, and some thirty persons were injured more or less seriously.

A Superior City saloon keeper has named his resort "Nowhere," so that when men go home late at night, and their wives want to know where they have been, they can safely tell the truth.

Mr. P. Lorillard is reported to be building at Newport one of the largest houses in the country. It is of wood and brick, and will have a frontage of nearly 174 feet.

Samuel Stickney, of Waterloo, Iowa, hugged a girl so hard that a revolver in his pocket was discharged, seriously wounding a boy who was passing the gate where the pair stood.

A Virginia paper thinks that Thomas Jefferson's greatest deed was bringing "love apples," which we now call tomatoes, from France to America as food for his hogs.

A letter received in Udesa from a cavalry commander in the Russian forces tells how the officers in the army of the south lack the commonest necessities. They are often without tea, sugar, bread and salt, and if, occasionally, a sufferer presents himself with supplies, they are forced to pay the most exorbitant prices for them.

House, a Bremen cigar manufacturer, has published a book in which he says that cigar coloring is becoming common. Most smokers prefer strong and dark colored to light and bright colored cigars while the color of raw tobacco tends rather to bright than dark. Hence the temptation to resort to coloring since poor cigars can thus be passed off for good.

Charles Lambert, of Ansonia, who started for N. Y. city on Friday, the 21st, is missing. Four play is suspected, as the young man's character was excellent, and he was to be married on the following day.

The faculty of Yale amused themselves during vacation in searching the students rooms and removing all signs whether stolen in New Haven or elsewhere. These spoils were hung up in the room where their weekly meetings were held.

The father of a tall Howard family, living somewhere in Kentucky, is six feet four inches in height; the mother is six feet one inch, the sixteen sons range from six feet three to six feet eleven, and the ten daughters average six feet two.

Springfield girls ask their men friends to give them ten cent pieces which have been ground smooth on one side and adorned with monograms. These coins the fair ones wear about their necks, the one with the longest string being an object of congratulation.

The other day fifty men were wanted to work on the Air Line road at Middletown, and word was sent to the agent at New Haven. The agent sent out one of his clerks to ascertain how many idlers would embrace the opportunity to earn $1 a day. Although there were 1200 names on the lists asking for employment only two were found who would work for the wages.

On the authority of a "seaman of long experience," the Portchester Journal says that the alleged sea-serpent which has been skimming around in the lower part of the Sound this Summer is nothing more or less than a huge whale which has entered the Sound, and is vainly endeavoring to find a way out. The Journal's informant recently saw the monster creating a great commotion in the water about 500 yards from the shore, and from the fact that it spouted a stream of water 20 feet high, and stirred up the surroundings with its tail like the paddle-wheels of a steamboat, pronounced it a whale and "nothing but a whale."

JOY FOR ALL AFFLICTED.

Nervous Headache.—Briggs' Alligator is warranted to cure Neuralgia, Nervous or Sick Headache, trembling and twitching of the nerves, and all nervous diseases; counteracts all poisons; cures itchy humors, pimples and eruptions, equalizes the circulation, subdues fevers, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain. Briggs' Alligator absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. $1.00 will be paid if not found as represented. Sold by S. S. Dunning.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Those desirous of ornamenting the graves of their deceased friends will find at the Keene & Pheasant Marble works, corner Gold and Middle streets Bridgeport, a large variety of tombstones and monuments all made of the best material. Prices to suit the times. Be sure and call. M. G. KEENE.

AVOID THE PRINCE OF TERRORS.

Listen! What do you hear? A cough? What does it indicate? Perchance a tickle in the throat; perhaps bronchitis; it may be a recent cold; it may be an effort of nature to clear the bronchiae; it may be the deep hollow cough, born companion of that terrible monster consumption. In either case the free use of Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer, is described, will banish all kinds of cough and cure bronchitis certain, and all the early symptoms of consumption. Briggs' remedies sold by S. S. Dunning.

CORNS, &c.

Language is almost inadequate to express the torture endured by those unhappy mortals who suffer from these universal afflictions; the twisting corn, and painful bunion, the torturing nail, &c., and to say that humanity was discouraged, would we fear be only too true. Yet there are exceptions, and these are those who have used Dr. Briggs' ALLIGATOR and CURATIVE, the great modern discoveries for all diseases of the feet, no matter how severe or seemingly incurable the case may be. The thousands who have been benefited by their use, bear witness to their efficiency. A trial is all that is needed to convince the most skeptical. Sold by S. S. Dunning.

Synopsis of a Few Cases Cured.

Mr. N.—Paralysis of the upper eyelid, with partial paralysis of right side of the face, of three months' standing. Cured in two weeks by Dr. Smith.

—Mr. A.—Catarrh of the head and nose, of fifteen years' standing; discharging quantities of thick greenish matter from throat and nose; using ten handkerchiefs a day, with loss of smell and appetite. Cured in six months by Dr. Smith, 117 State st.

—Judge F.—Could not walk to the court from severe lumbago. Cured by a few treatments. (See account in Standard a few weeks ago)

Mrs. B.—Confined to her bed for months from nervous prostration. Cured in a few weeks, (which was also published in Standard).

—Mr. E.—Chronic constipation of fifteen years, with discharges like clay, hard and dry; pale complexion, emaciated, prostrated, and given up by physicians. Cured in thirty-three applications.

—Mr. J.—Inflammatory rheumatism all over the body; confined to bed for five months. Cured in five treatments.

—Mr. B.—Inflammatory rheumatism of right arm. Cured in one treatment.

Mr. C.—Dyspepsia, headache, constipation, and piles of thirteen years—a case with all the worst symptoms or each complaint. Cured in three months.

—Mr. S.—Rose cold; had for six years past, every June, lasting six weeks, with acrid burning discharge of a watery character, with a feeling of being stopped up. Cured in seven treatments.

—Mr. B.—Neuralgia of the face and head, of a throbbing, lancinating character with convulsive movement of the face at the height of the paroxysm; light unendurable nervous prostration. Relieved in one application, and cured of nervous prostration in two weeks.

Mr. G.—Chronic bronchitis and catarrh having a hard, dry cough, dryness of the throat, and tickling in the throat-pit, craving appetite (the stomach soon feeling full), nervous prostration, unable to work. Relieved in three weeks, so as to be able to attend to business and cured in six months.

—Mr. M.—Asthma of twelve years; worse at night; unable to lie down; great restlessness, pale face, cold perspiration; constant coughing, no phlegm yielding until gagging and vomiting; various dyspeptic symptoms, cured in four months.

—Wm. W.—Bad ulcer. Treated over a year by a Bridgeport physician, and grew worse. Published in Standard some time ago. Dr. Smith cured him in a few months.

—Mr. D.—Ulceration of the bowels of seven years with ten to fifteen passages a day, with mucous and bloody discharges, emaciation and prostration. Cured in three months.

—Mr. L.—Impotence and enlargement of the prostate gland. Cured in three months.

—Mr. W.—Chronic rheumatism of seven years, with pains in all the joints; worse on beginning to move, and after sitting still for some time; pains at night in shoulders and hips; nights full of pain with great restlessness. Cured in two months.

—Mr. J.—Dyspepsia and sick headache of eighteen years' standing, having at times confining him to bed three days in the week, with nausea, vomiting and diarrhea; stomach constantly disturbed and almost continuous headache, with fullness and belching of wind or scurid acid after meals. Relieved in a week, and cured in four months.

—Mr. S.—Cancer of stomach, having a hard ball that could be felt of the size of a goose egg, causing constant nausea and fullness of the stomach and asthma vomiting of a sour, foul-smelling liquid, looking like ink and coffee grounds, with sharp darting pains through the stomach and bowels constipated. Vomiting stopped in two weeks. Cancer absorbed in two months, and case cured in four months.

—Mr. W.—Suffered from spermatorrhoea and its effects for sixteen years. The disease still continued, daily, with burning pains in the stomach, and dyspepsia, constipation loss of memory, nervousness, sleep full of horrible and ludicrous dreams, and entirely unfit to attend to business. Cured in four months.

Miss C.—Spinal Curvature of four years treated by several physicians, cured in six months.

Miss H.—Female weakness cured in four months.

Mrs. W.—Prolapsus cured in nine months (a very bad case)

The above are only a few of hundreds of cases of similar character constantly being cured by Dr. Smith, 117 State street, after trying every other method in vain, and often when other Electricians, even, have failed to relieve them. We receive no cases that do not admit of cure. Consultation free.

NOTE.—Dr. J. D. S. SMITH does not travel but is at his office, 117 State street and he has no one out as a representative, either for consultation or diagnosis.

After four years practice in Bridgeport, Dr. Smith challenges any physician to show a better record as regards cures made and permanent too! nothing of a transient nature.
